INCENDIARIES SUSPECTED IN FIRE

The one-and-a-half story frame residence on Nineteenth street, occupied by Elmer Wilhoit, was badly damaged by fire at a late hour Monday night. The fire department was summoned by an alarm from Box 35, and upon arriving found the house a mass of flames. The department by hard work kept the blaze confined to the roof and the rear of the building, but considerable damage was done to the remainder by fire, smoke and water. The firemen were assisted by the neighbors in saving the greater part of the contents.

The building belonged to W. J. Kenton. The family was away from home at the time the fire was discovered. The origin of the fire is unknown, but is thought to have been the work of incendiaries, as several suspicious circumstances developed later to strengthen the theory advanced by the firemen. The blaze was first discovered by Mrs. C. M. Brown, wife of a Louisville & Nashville conductor, who had just returned from Cincinnati on a late train and was preparing to retire.

Mr. Wilhoit, who is connected with the Rawleigh Medicine Co., had a stock of goods, valued at about $1,000, the loss on which was covered by insurance. His loss on goods and household effects was estimated at about $1,500, fully covered by insurance. The loss on the house was estimated at $1,200, with no insurance.

BURLEY ELECTION SET FOR SATURDAY

Saturday, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. the members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association will hold their annual election in this county. Every member of the Association can vote, but he must do so on an official ballot, which will be furnished him by the officers of election. It can be voted by mail or sent in by a friend, if the grower is not able to attend the election in person.

The election Saturday will be held in every one of the organized counties of the Burley district. The delegates chosen Saturday will meet Monday in that county in each district which delivered to the Association the largest amount of tobacco in the past year and will elect the director for that district. There are twenty-two of the districts and twenty-two directors elected next Monday will elect three directors-at-large, the entire board then proceeding to the election of the officers of the association.

So far as can be learned there is no opposition to any of the present members of the directorate, with one or two exceptions, or to any of the officers of the Association who have conducted its business the past year.

The elections Saturday are to be held at the court houses in the various counties and will be in charge of men elected at mass meetings September 2, when the candidates for delegates were nominated by the growers themselves. Blank spaces are left on every ballot, so that the grower may write in the names of any persons for whom he may desire to vote, in case he does not wish to vote for candidates whose names appear on the ballot.

Nearly 70,000 men and women will take part in Saturday's election at the offices of the association.

SETTLEMENT OF SHOPMEN'S STRIKE IN SIGHT

The Policy Committee of the striking railway shop crafts Wednesday authorized B. M. Jewell, strike leader, to sign a separate peace agreement with individual roads.

This action, it was stated, would end the strike on from 30 to 52 of the 202 Class 1 railroads of the country which entered into direct negotiations with Mr. Jewell recently at Baltimore, and with any others who cared to accept the peace terms.

With the announcement that the partial peace had been voted came the first definite information that S. Davis Warfield, president of the Seaboard Air Line and representative of a railroad securities company said to control $13,000,000,000 of stock, was responsible, for negotiations that finally ended in the agreement.

The agreement was reached by the committee of 90 about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The following roads were said by a representative of S. Davies Warfield to have been among the parties to the agreement:

Louisiana and Arkansas; New York, Chicago and St. Louis; Southern Railroad; Georgia, Southern and Florida; Harriman and Northeastern;

New Orleans and Northeastern;

Northern Alabama; Seaboard

Air Line; Chesterfield and Lancaster; Macon, Dublin and Savannah;

Tampa and Gulf Coast; Tampa

Northern; Virginian Railway; Whit-

ton Salem, South Bound; Alabama

Great Southern; Chesapeake and

Ohio; Chicago, Indianapolis and

Louisville; Baltimore and Ohio;

New York Central; Boston and Alabama and Cleveland, Cincinnati,

Chicago and St. Louis.

The peace settlement plan would also apply to the Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Oilers, some 15,000 members of which followed the strike action of the six federated shop crafts.

The Louisville and Nashville railroad company has not considered the agreement, which B. M. Jewell, head of the striking shop craft, announced that the union's policy committee of 90 had authorized him to negotiate with the nation's railroads according to a statement issued by Wible L. Mapother, president of the L. and N. His statement follows:

"The Louisville and Nashville railroad company has no knowledge of the agreement other than the press reports and has not considered the agreement.

"So far as suitable vacancies may exist, the L. and N. is willing to take back the strikers, but only as new employees.

"The rights of the employees now at work, aggregating more than 10,000, will be protected to the limit.

(Signed) "L. MAPOTHER,"
President Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company."

Jimmie Vioux, the fast outfielder, who played with the Lexington team in the old Blue Grass League, has been purchased by the Louisville team of the American Association from the Portsmouth, Ohio, team of the Virginia League. Vioux married Miss Nellie Lovely, of Paris.

Weil & Rogers also bought thirty-six head of 1,350-lb. cattle from John Willie Young, of North Middlebury, for which they paid nine cents per pound. This bunch was also shipped to Nagle & Co., at Hoboken.

Julian Rogers shipped two carloads of mixed hogs to the Cincinnati market that cost from 8 to 8½ cents per pound.

W. A. Thomason, of near North Middlebury, shipped 247 fat cattle from Richmond, to the Eastern markets. The cattle averaged around 1,460 pounds, and cost Mr. Thomason a little in excess of $30,000.

WOULD-BE ELOPERS

The local authorities have been asked to look for Margaret Hudnall, aged thirteen, who is believed to have eloped with Thomas Wilson, aged twenty, of this county. The child's grandfather, John Hudnall, of Spears Mill, reported to the Sheriff's office that he had found letters telling of the proposed elopement and had asked the girl's teacher to keep a watch over her, but that she had escaped from school in spite of the surveillance.

All embargoes on southbound freight have been lifted on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, it was announced by Brent Arnold, general freight agent. The order which accompanied the announcement stated that hereafter southbound freight to points on the road would be accepted and that freight to points beyond the southern terminal would be accepted provided the connecting lines would accept it.

The boys are telling a good story on a well-known Paris merchant, who has a very decided penchant for poker. It seems that this young man was out a little later than usual the other night with a party of friends "rushing the deck," and, on arriving home in the early hours of the morning, found that the wife of his bosom was sleeping soundly and snugly. Not wishing to awaken her—or to be compelled to think up a reasonable excuse for being out so late, or so early—he tiptoed in, successfully and, without turning on a light, reached in the clothes closet for his "nightie." This secured, he crept into bed, and, congratulating himself on his strategy, was soon asleep.

1922 TOBACCO POOL CLOSES NOVEMBER 6

Tobacco growers who desire to market their tobacco this year cooperatively will have until Monday, November 6, to sign the contract of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association, according to the terms of a resolution adopted by the board of directors of the Association in regular monthly session in Lexington. After that date no new members will be received for this year, it was provided in the resolution.

A total membership of 67,709 was shown in the report of Assistant Chief of the Field Service Division William Collins, who estimated that the total number of members of the Association in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Tennessee will be more than 75,000 before the tobacco of the 1922 crop is delivered to the Association.

Clifford Rodes, former manager of the West Virginia and Eastern Ohio territory, made his final report, showing that 2,938 growers in that territory had signed the contract, representing about 3,000,000 pounds of tobacco. Mr. Rhodes recommended that the staff of Kentuckians now on duty in that territory be continued until the closing date.

He paid high tribute to the devotion to duty and the efficiency of H. B. Carpenter, Jr., of Lawrenceburg, Ky., who succeeded him as manager.

Mr. Carpenter, with a force of six workers from this State, in addition to the local organization, will continue the campaign right up to the closing date.

Sales of a considerable amount of tobacco since the last meeting of the board were reported by President and General Manager James C. Stone, but at the request of the buyers no information as to the identity of the amounts of their purchases was given to the press.

In counties in which ten or more growers may request such action, President Stone will appoint an inspector and a challenger for the election September 16, at which delegates who will later select the directors will be chosen by ballot.

Chairman W. H. Shanks of the auditing committee, reported that he and his associates on the committee, R. P. Taylor, of Winchester, and Rev. J. R. Jones, of Cynthiana, had arranged for a complete audit of the books and papers of the Association and that the report would be ready to present to the new board of directors at its meeting in October.

The matter of insuring the property of the association against damage by tornado or windstorm was left to the executive committee. It developed that in two cases of loss by windstorm the Association was protected by policies of insurance.

HUNTINGTON BANK PRESIDENT SIGNS BURLEY CONTRACT

Contracts of tobacco growers to the number of 1,430 were received at the offices of the Burley Tobacco Association the past week, including that of C. H. Harrison, president of the Twentieth Street Bank, of Huntington, West Virginia, owner of two farms in that State, who signed up eight acres of tobacco to the Association.

Two hundred and ninety-nine of the new contracts came from Brackinridge county and 165 from the Eastern Kentucky District of James N. Kehoe and his workers. The others came from all parts of the district, showing, according to officials of the Association, that the signing up of growers is general throughout the territory.

Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker visited a number of points in the district the past week, inspecting arrangements for the handling of the new crop at these points. Foster and Stanford will have new receiving plants, local business men having arranged for the financing of these plants, which will be taken over by the Association on the same terms as the other houses it now owns.

District grader J. Leslie Knight, of the western district, who has been busy for several weeks in that territory in connection with the regrading of green tobaccos, said that half of the 1922 crop had been cut green and put in the barns and that his opinion was that the crop, as a whole, would not exceed that of 1921, which was the lightest of any year since the cut-out of 1908.

President and General Manager Jas. C. Stone went to Nicholasville and addressed a meeting of farmers, reviewing the accomplishments of the Burley Association during the first year of its existence. He was frequently applauded as he reviewed the steps in the first year's successful marketing of the crop co-operatively.

Early Learned Truth About Earth. Eratosthenes was a Greek mathematician living in Egypt. He wrote a book on geography, and had so clear a perception of the shape of the earth that more than 1,700 years before Columbus he affirmed that it would be possible to sail from Spain to India by going always westward. He needed no telescope and no chronometer to find that out. Eratosthenes measured the circumference of the earth on precisely the principle that still lies at the basis of geodesy.

WEEKLY WEATHER AND CROPS SUMMARY

Moderate to heavy rainfall in the northeastern counties, following good rains in the previous week, practically broke the drought in that section. Late crops show considerable improvement, the condition of corn and tobacco in that district ranging from fair to good. Stock water has been replenished, and pastures are revived. Only light scattered showers occurred in most of the central and western portions of the State, where the drought continues, and was intensified by the unseasonably high temperature. In those districts late corn and tobacco are scarcely growing and are in poor condition, especially in the hilly region.

Pastures continue short and dry, and feeding stock has been restored in places. Early corn is drying rapidly, and the quality of the grain is good. Cutting has commenced in the southern counties. Most early tobacco has been cut and housed, somewhat earlier than usual because of "firing" and premature ripening due to drought. In most of the State weather conditions were favorable for speedy curing and good quality of leaf; but the yield is much reduced on account of drought damage.

Fall plowing is beginning in the northern counties, where the soil was softened by heavy rains. Very little plowing has been done in the remainder of the State, where the soil is generally too dry to be worked. The late sown cowpeas will be benefited by the rains in the eastern counties, but in general this crop has been seriously damaged by the dry weather.

Late potatoes improved and are growing fairly well in most of the eastern half of the State; but they are in a critical condition in the western half. Some young clover has been killed by drought. The fourth crop of alfalfa is about ready to cut, but the yield will be short. Rain is badly needed in central and western districts.

KENTUCKY FALLING BEHIND IN GOOD ROADS

Keen interest was manifested recently in a published statement by the Postoffice Department showing that Kentucky stands second in the list of States, numerically, as to postoffices.

Pennsylvania alone, with 2,987 offices, has a greater number than the Bluegrass State, which, with 2,568, is ahead even of New York, with its many millions of people, and Texas, with its expanse of territory.

An investigation to ascertain the reason for this, developed the interesting information that it is mainly accounted for by the fact Kentucky's highways do not compare in number and character with those of other States. As explained at the Postoffice Department, just as fast as good roads are provided, additional rural free delivery routes are authorized and the smaller postoffices discontinued.

A postal map of Kentucky on display at the Department presents an interesting study. Each postoffice is represented by a dot. In the mountainous sections, particularly, these dots are so numerous as to make them difficult to count. By contrast, other States in which highway building programs have developed favorably, show a greater number of rural routes and fewer small postoffices. All of which led an official of the Department to comment: 'The lack of roads seems to tell the story.'

A bulletin recently issued by "Modern Highways," of which Senator Richard P. Ernst is president, and a number of other men prominent in official and professional life, officers, told how good roads and rural churches go hand in hand. An official of this Association remarked: "Just as the church, the school and the public health are closely related to modern highways, so it is now shown that the many conveniences of the rural free delivery also depend in great part upon them."

Codfish as Old as History. Codfish is said to be the world's most important—which means the most eaten—fish. Few fish are more prolific. It has been asserted that one weighing 75 pounds will contain over 9,000,000 eggs. The cod is practically omnivorous, finding means to supply great schools wherever food of any sort is found. It is found in many places of the world other than the North American "banks," and it is said that it has been fished for by fishermen of northern Europe since the beginning of recorded history and, of course, for uncountable centuries before man began to make written records.

Badger Villages. Badgers live in burrows which they dig themselves and in some parts of the West these burrows are numerous in small areas, says the American Forestry Magazine. Although they are all the work of badgers, many of them had been dug to secure gophers, prairie marmots, mice and other rodents, upon which they prey. These burrows, often covering several acres, are a source of constant annoyance and danger to travelers on horseback.

Florida Named for Easter. Florida was so called by Ponc de Leon because he discovered it on Easter Sunday, which is in Spanish Pascua Florida.

CHARLES COLEMAN, Defendant

Under and by virtue of a judgment and order of sale rendered at the June term of the Bourbon Circuit Court, in the above styled action therein pending, the undersigned Master Commissioner, on at the front door of the Court House in Paris, Kentucky, at about the hour of 11 o'clock a.m., will sell at public outcry, to the highest and best bidder, the life estate of

CHARLES COLEMAN, in and to the following described property:

1. Israel's Base Ingratitude (1:1-5).

God approached them with the tender affirmation "I have loved you." It was the prophet's burden to declare this fact unto them (v. 1). So formal and worldly were the people that they failed to see God's hand upon them.

The attitude of Israel to God is shown in the skeptical insinuation "Wherein hast thou loved us?" The prophet answers this by showing God's choice of Jacob and His passing by Esau; His destruction of Edom and saving Israel.

II. God's Severe Indictment (1:6-2:17).

1. Against the Priests (1:6-2, 9).

They were guilty (1) of profanity (1:6).

Their profanity was in despising the name of God. To fail to honor God is to be profane. To use His name in any unseemly way is to be thus guilty.

(2) Sacrilege (vv. 7, 8).

Their sacrilegious act was in offering polluted bread and blemished sacrifices.

To bring such offerings to an earthly ruler would be a gross insult.

Gifts to be acceptable with God must be genuine; must cost something.

We should give to God our best.

There is no intellect too brilliant to offer in the Lord's service. The young should not esteem their lives wasted who offer them on the altar of missionary sacrifice.

(3) Greed (1:10).

They were not willing to open the doors of God's house without pay.

Our service should be out of a heart of love for God, not for profit.

This has a vital application to ministers and evangelists today.

To enter Christian service because of worldly gain is of this type.

(4) Weariness (1:12, 13).

Because of lack of love the routine of duty became irksome.

(5) Not teaching the law to the people (2:1-9).

Those set apart to teach God's law to the people have a great responsibility and God will most surely demand an accounting.

2. Against the People (2:10-17; 3:7-15).

(1) For ungodly marriages (2:11, 12).

God's purpose in the prohibition of mixed marriages was that He might raise up holy seed (v. 15).

The marriage of the believer with the unbeliever today brings confusion into the fold of God and turns aside His purpose.

(2) For divorce (2:13-16).

Divorce was the source of great sorrow

—even the tears of the wronged women covering the altar (v. 13).

The offerings of a man who had thus treated his wife would be an abomination to God.

The tears of wronged women

today are going up to God and make even the prayers of some men an abomination to Him.

(3) Public wrongs (3:5, 6).

SHERIFF CHANGE IS BOON

In many counties of Kentucky the fees of the Sheriff exceed the constitutional limit of $5,000, and even the salary of the Governor, $6,500, the only exception made in the organic law. Steps were started at the last session of the Legislature to make an investigation of these conditions to bring the Sheriff's compensation within the constitutional limits.

The largest item of the Sheriff's pay are the fees allowed for the collection of taxes and the larger the county assessment the more taxes and more fees. Now besides holding a well-paying office the Sheriff is protected from imposition and losses but it was not always that way.

Before the adoption of the present constitution there was rich picking in the Sheriff's office, but many who held it retired peniless and financially ruined. This came about through the practice of many of the Sheriffs of that period financing the office and carrying delinquent taxpayers. Often such favors were abused and the Sheriff not inclined to force collection for political or personal reasons frequently was left to hold the bag.

Many a man who courted political preference by being elected Sheriff went broke under the old system. Now the Sheriff is not permitted to advance payment or carry a taxpayer and has no other alternative but to collect the taxes within a stipulated time. The change in the system was a boon to the Sheriffs by practically eliminating any chance of loss in the conduct of the office.

THE PROPER COURSE

Information of Priceless Value to Every Paris Citizen.

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth and this is particularly true of the diseases and ills of the human body. If you suffer with kidney backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement should add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of a Paris citizen who used them and who publicly tells of the benefit derived?

Mrs. A. L. Burley, 329 Eighth street, Paris, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills a few times and say they are a good reliable remedy. When my kidneys have acted irregularly or my back has been weak and lame I have always found that a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills which I get at Ardery's Drug Store relieve the complaint quickly."

The above statement was given November 10, 1916, and on November 12, 1920, Mrs. Burley said: "I haven't changed my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills and recommend them just as highly to-day as when I gave my former statement."

Price 60¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Burley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

$9.98 FOR LEGISLATION

Since 1908 the pay of members of the Kentucky Legislature has been $10 a day for the sixty-day working session, which requires seventy-two calendar days to complete, making the pay $720 for the session in addition to mileage at the rate of 15 cents per mile to and from their homes and a stationery allowance.

Prior to 1908 the legislative per diem was $5, and it was believed that the doubling of the pay would encourage better representation in the law-making body. As to whether it has had this effect there may be differences of opinion, but generally it is agreed that the compensation is not excessive. When the change was authorized one solon jocularly proposed that the per diem be fixed at the bargain rate of $9.98. Kentucky is in the forefront of the States that pay their lawmakers a living wage.

Deceitful Thing!

One of the disappointments of this life is to receive a letter addressed in a charming feminine hand and to find that it contains a bill from the plumber.

POULTRY CULLING ON BOURBON FARMS

Additional evidence that Bourbon county poultry flocks contain a large number of hens that can be culled out at this time of the year without seriously reducing the egg production of the various flocks is contained in the results of a poultry culling demonstration held recently by the extension division of the College of Agriculture on the flock of 58 White Wyandottes owned by Franklin Bell, who lives near Paris and who is one of the magistrates in the county court.

Fifteen hens removed from Mr. Bell's flock because they showed characteristic signs of being low producers that had stopped laying until spring, produced only eight eggs during the week after they were separated from the other members of the flock. The 43 hens that were kept as layers produced a total of 133 eggs during the week, after the culling demonstration, or three more than the entire flock of 58 had produced during the week before the culling demonstration.

The results are typical of those being obtained throughout the State, an announcement from the college says. The drive being conducted against loafer hens has been most intensive in counties having county agricultural agents, these representatives of the college extension division having rendered much valuable assistance to farmers in their counties in this line of work alone. Hundreds of demonstrations have been held to show farmers and poultrymen how to distinguish between the laying and loafing hens in their flocks.

CONVENTION PLANS DEVELOPED.

The executives of the State Sunday School Association held a luncheon conference in Winchester with the local committee on arrangements to discuss plans for the State convention to be held October 3-5. Dr. George Joplin, of the State office, and Mr. T. McElroy, State president, were present.

The headquarters of the convention will be opened at the Chamber of Commerce. The Winchester Kiwanis Club has donated the convention badges, which will be distributed at convention headquarters. Quotas were assigned for the various Sunday schools of Clark county and a total of 500 is expected to register from this county. Word has been received from Fayette county that 50 delegates will attend.

B. F. Adcock was appointed to head the delegation to Paris next week, when a number of Sunday school workers will canvass the city for delegates. W. K. Elliott was selected to take charge of a trip to Richmond the following week.

A ROOF FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Firms that don't see the need of advertising usually have two stock reasons for hiding their light under a bushel.

When business is good, "they don't need advertising to help them won't help them."

When business is poor, "advertising won't help them."

In a way they are like the Arkansas farmer whose roof leaked all the year round and who excused his laziness by explaining that when it was raining it was too wet to get out and mend the roof and when it was not raining there was no need for a patched roof.

When you advertise you build a roof over your business to protect it during the cloudy, gloomy days of adversity. And newspapers advertising shingles will give you a tight roof.—The Woodpecker.

THE BOURBON NEWS.

Oyster Enlarges Home. An oyster enlarges its own shell. It spends its infancy in the hole where it lives in its latter-days. As it grows it throws out a secretion of animal matter and carbonate of lime, which sticks to the shell, and oozes over the edges surrounding the hollow in which the creature resides. Thus, as time goes on, its home gradually becomes larger and thicker.

Vindicates the Turkey.

Charges of larceny commonly preferred against turkeys that range in grain fields may be definitely withdrawn following significant evidence that the homely birds choose one fat cricket to whole field of grain during the season that they sit themselves for the Thanksgiving sacrifice. A count made last fall of the contents of a typical tom's crop showed 240 grasshoppers, 50 black crickets and pine kernels of grain. Turkeydom rests its case on many similar evidences in other states.

SAVE THE FORESTS AND FOREST LANDS OF KENTUCKY

An appeal to the citizens of Kentucky to aid in replenishing the rapidly disappearing forests of the State, has been issued from Frankfort. The appeal is signed by W. C. Hanna, Commissioner of Agriculture, F. M. Sackett, president of the Louisville Board of Trade, F. C. Dorsey, chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the Kentucky Farm Bureau, and James Speed, Kentucky Editor of The Southern Agriculturist. The appeal is as follows:

"A PLEA TO THE CITIZENS OF THE STATE

"Kentucky's forests are rapidly disappearing, and she is making no provision for re-foresting. Until the year 1912 forestry work in the State was under the Department of Agriculture, but practically nothing was being done. That year, however, the Legislature of Kentucky appropriated $15,000 annually to be used by the regular developing Forestry Commission.

"The Legislature of 1920 abolished this appropriation. It also abolished the Commission and placed the Forestry Department under the Department of Agriculture with only $6,000 with which to do business. This small amount was so circumscribed by specifications that over one-half of it is useless for any constructive work. In fact, over one-half of this appropriation of $6,000 is turned back each year into the State Treasury because it is practically wasted if it is used. The small fund allowed by the Legislature of Kentucky cuts the State off from the use of national funds to supplement its own, so as to secure adequate protection from forest fires.

"Indiana, Ohio and Illinois all have forestry commissions with ample funds and well developed plans. Naturally the public mind in these States is adjusting itself to a real constructive campaign for more trees, larger tracts of forests, and fire prevention in forest lands. While this is being accomplished north of the Ohio river, the work of educating the public in Kentucky is virtually at a standstill. This is especially disheartening as the mountains of the State are badly in need of replanting in forests, because these areas can never become good farming lands.

"Blessed as Kentucky is with wonderful natural resources, it seems tragic that her forests should be allowed to go to waste without making some provision for the future. At the present rate of destruction Kentucky will soon be entirely without her valued wooded areas.

"The loss of forests is certain to mean more destructive floods, less revenue from lands which can only produce timber, and last, but not least, the loss of beautiful wooded areas as playgrounds and outing places for the generations yet unborn."

STATE HEALTH BOARD GIVES STATISTICS

More persons came to their death in 1921 in Kentucky by violence and in accidents than were carried off by any diseases except pneumonia and tuberculosis, it is shown by figures made public by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health. Violent and accidental deaths were 1,799, according to the figures, while deaths from tuberculosis were 3,135 and pneumonia was responsible for 2,031.

Total deaths from accidental causes were 1,424, the largest single item; according to J. F. Blackerby, director of the bureau, being burns of various kinds, which were responsible for 196 deaths. Railroad accidents occasioned the next largest number of fatalities, being responsible for 140 deaths; automobile accidents, 93 deaths, and accidental poisoning, 56 deaths.

Of the 375 deaths by violence, 173 were suicides and 202 homicides. In connection with these, Mr. Blackerby pointed out, referring to the need of more stringent legislation against the carrying of firearms, that over half of the suicides were by means of some kind of firearms, and that in the case of the homicides firearms were used in 90 per cent of the murders.

REAL ESTATE DEALS

The frame bungalow located on Sixteenth street, belonging to Geo. T. Wagoner, was sold publicly Wednesday afternoon by Harris, Speakes & Harris, for $3,275, to Miss Lutie K. Williams. The home has seven rooms, and is nicely located.

Lee R. Penn sold a small tract of land containing eighteen acres, located on the Paris and Lexington pike, on the Fayette and Bourbon line, to his son, Robert L. Penn, at a private price.

The finishing touches are being put on the building at the corner of Seventh and High streets, being erected by Harris, Speakes and Harris. The lower floor will be occupied by the Reo Bus Line, and the upper apartments by Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Purnell.

The brick business house nearing completion on Tenth street, adjoining the L. & N. passenger station, will be occupied when completed by Wm. Farris, the owner, as a restaurant. The structure is built of red-face brick, and is one story in height.

Good prices were obtained at the sale Tuesday of lands belonging to the estate of the late Mrs. Sidney G. Clay, Sr. The entire farm, containing approximately 487 acres, located on the Bethlehem pike, near Paris, brought a total of $87,000, an average of about $179 per acre. The lands adjoin the farms of Jonas Wiel and Mr. and Mrs. Buckner Woodford, and were sold in four separate parcels, as follows: Tract of 175 acres, sold to Jonas Weil, at $151 an acre; Tract No. 2, containing 200 acres, sold to M. M. Thomason, of Fayette county, at $198.50 an acre; Tract No. 3, containing about 56 acres, sold to Mer. Thomason, at $155.25 an acre; Tract No. 4, containing about 56 acres, also sold to Mr. Thomason for $201.50 an acre.

SHOULD BE PLACED IN OLD KENTUCKY HOUSE

The Harrodsburg Democrat describes two relics of great historic interest held by residents of Kentucky—two kettles, one brought over by the Pilgrims and one owned by Lincoln's parents—which it rightly suggests should be placed in a museum for safekeeping.

What better place than the Old Kentucky House at the State Fair? If the owners' names could be obtained, steps might be readily taken to place them in this permanent museum, where they could be seen by thousands. The Democrat says:

"It may not be generally known that this State possesses two relics of great historic interest, or rather they are in the keeping of individuals living in the State and privately owned.

"One is a kettle or pot brought over by the Pilgrim Fathers and vouched for by documentary evidence, we believe. We have never seen this relic, but it is said to be authentic, and, needless to say, is highly prized by the owner, who would appear to be a descendant of one who landed at Plymouth. It is now in keeping in the mountain section of the State, and has been seen by the one who communicated the facts to us. In size it is fairly large and bears all the marks of antiquity.

"The other is a kettle or pot, which was owned by the father and mother of Abraham Lincoln and is now in the keeping of a family in Washington county, or was when last seen. It is one of the large variety, generally used out of doors, and can be vouched for by the family who have had it in their keeping during the years.

"Relics of this kind one would like to see in some museum for safekeeping. Doubtless they are now safe enough, but the vicissitudes of time may mean their ultimate loss, which would be regretted in the extreme."

SCHOOL DAYS

(By W. Brant Hughes)
It's "goodbye" to the camp on the river
To the gang and the swimming hole;
"Farewell" to the hikes across country
With the gun or the fishing pole.
It's "good morning," the little red school house,
As we gather up pencil and pen,
And the dust covered books from the attic,
For school days have come again.

We have romped in the pastures and woodlands,

As free as the birds and the bees,

At first hand we've studied the secrets

Of the insects, the flowers and trees,

But there's a tang in the air of September

That calls us indoors from the field,

and the earlier twilight is bidding

For the treasures the story books yield.

With faces all bronzed by the sunshine,

With sinews as strong as steel;

The summer's great gift to her children

Is abundance of life that we feel.

So now with a shout we will rally

From hillside and valley and glen;

Say, "goodbye" to the camp on the river,

"Good morning" to school days again.

MUST PROVIDE BOXES FOR MAIL

Postmaster J. Walter Payne has received official instructions from the Postoffice Department at Washington, in which is urged the importance of providing boxes for the reception of mail. The instructions to postmasters is as follows:

"On account of delays caused to carriers at dwelling houses where no door-slot or mail receptacle is provided, and the fact that a large majority of dwellings are thus equipped already, it seems timely, within a reasonable period, to require all who are to receive mail by street carriers at their dwellings to provide accommodations, the expense of the same being small. Postmasters are therefore thus instructed. The length of notice should not exceed four months, although there may be exceptional cases where postmasters should use discretion or ask for instructions.

"It is not the department's desire, of course, that any shall be deprived of delivery by this department, but rather it is earnestly hoped that all will see the reasonableness of it and its advantage to themselves as well as to the carriers. But if it finally becomes necessary mail delivery will be discontinued where no door-slots (preferably) or mail receptacles are provided.

"In connection with the above instructions let me add that there are several houses at present that are not numbered, the department assumes that all houses in a city which has delivery service is properly numbered, but in recent years the builders of new houses have neglected to provide numbers on several. In accordance with the departments instructions covering this, mail delivery will not be extended to houses not properly numbered and will be withdrawn from those having delivery at present if their house is not numbered within a reasonable time. The notice will be given them by the carrier serving them."

At a joint meeting of the Bourbon County Red Cross Chapter, composed of John Brennan, Mrs. Frank Kiser and John J. Williams and the local dentists, it was arranged to have each dentist devote half a day each month during the coming year to clinic work among the school children of Bourbon county. Worthy cases will be handled by the local dentists for a minimum fee covering merely the cost of materials.

Secretary Inez Caudill was instructed to call at the various schools and do the follow-up work in examination of pupils, which was begun a year ago by Miss Esther Meinzier, who was forced to resign during the year on account of ill-health.

CRAMPS, PAINS AND BACKACHE

St. Louis Woman Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I was bothered with cramps and pains every month and had to go to bed as I could not work. My mother and my whole family always took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for such troubles and they induced me to try it and it has helped me very much. I don't have cramps any more, and I can do my housework all through the month. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends for female troubles."—Mrs. DELLA SCHOLZ, 1412 Salisbury Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Just think for a moment. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been in use for nearly fifty years. It is prepared from medicinal plants, by the utmost pharmaceutical skill, and superior methods. The ingredients thus combined in the Compound correct the conditions which cause such annoying symptoms as had been troubling Mrs. Scholz. The Vegetable Compound exercises a restorative influence of the most desirable character, correcting the trouble in a gentle but efficient manner. This is noted, by the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms.

Biographer's Chief Task.

"One of the most delicate secrets of biography," says Gamaliel Bradford, in his "American Portraits, 1875-1900," "is the distinction between gossip and psychological and spiritual truth. Gossip, the mere accumulation of piquant but irrelevant details, may stimulate curiosity but it satiates and wearies in the end. But even insignificant touches, trifling actions, brief words that throw open wide window upon the soul are inexhaustibly fascinating to the true analyst. It is the proper task of the biographer to separate gossip from the things that really count."

Celebrated for Untruthfulness.

Ananias was a Bible character particularly celebrated for his untruthfulness. As a member of the young church of Jerusalem he conspired with his wife, Sapphira, to make false pretenses respecting their gift of property to the community of the brethren, and was, with his wife, stricken dead. Ananias has since become the name in common parlance for one who notoriously takes liberties with the truth.

Famous American Trees.

The Charter oak of Hartford, Conn., in the hole of which the colony's charter was hidden by Captain Wadsworth, survived until 1856, when a storm destroyed it. In Annapolis, Md., there is a poplar which the Annapolis folk call the Liberty tree. It still stands sturdy and green on the campus of St. John's college. Under this tree patriots of the colony met and made their pronouncements for freedom.

WOMAN REFUSES TO BECOME OLD

Mrs. Crawford of North Carolina Enters Columbia University at Age of Seventy-One.

GRANDSON JUST GRADUATED

This Mentally Alert Grandmother Went to Vassar More Than Half a Century Ago, but Declares There Is No End to Growth.

New York.—At seventy-one Mrs. A. P. Crawford of Greensboro, N. C., has entered the summer session of Columbia university as a student. College graduate and Vassar student more than half a century ago, and mother of six, Mrs. Crawford is studying in order that she may keep mentally alert and up to date, which, she says, is the real secret of youth. She is Columbia's oldest student.

"There is no need to grow old, mentally at least," said Mrs. Crawford, who is living at 420 West 118th street during her stay here. "Stagnation and intolerance are one's greatest foes in keeping young. These changing times demand new viewpoints, and the woman of today must keep herself well informed. It is her duty as a citizen."

Mrs. Crawford sees nothing unusual in "going to school" at her age, explaining that she "lost her job" when her children grew up and established themselves, and in her long, busy life she has never had as much leisure as she would like for reading and study. Three of her five sons are teachers, another is a merchant in Winston-Salem, N. C., and the fifth is connected with the Reynolds Tobacco company in that city.

Grandson Just Graduated.

A grandson, R. B. Crawford, was graduated from the University of North Carolina last June. Her son, L. W. Crawford, is assistant director of the summer session at Columbia, Richard M. is teaching at William and Mary college in Virginia, and F. M. Crawford is an instructor in the high school at Girard, O.

Mrs. Crawford was teacher herself for two years after graduation from the Greensboro College for Women in 1869, and a year of study at Vassar, then just four years old. Marriage to a Methodist clergyman interrupted her work and brought with it home duties and parish work, but she was always an ardent reader, and kept herself young, she believes, by striving always to be intellectually awake, keeping herself in constant association with young people and safeguarding her health with judicious exercise and simple rules of hygiene.

"There is no end to growth," she declares energetically. Her six weeks' study here she will use, she explained, as a basis for her reading during the winter months at home. Philosophy and literature interest her most. Comparative literature and Professor Montague's course in radical, conservative and reactionary tendencies in present-day morals are the subjects she is taking up here.

Doesn't Condemn Flappers.

Asked her opinion of the modern "flapper," she replied that the term was used so indiscriminately that she was not sure of its meaning, but that she did not condemn the young girls of today for reaching out toward freer, broader lives. Girls of today do not study so hard as they used, she said, but have a broader and more intelligent outlook than the schoolgirls of her generation. But no one has any excuse for narrowness and stagnation today, she declared, because knowledge has been made so accessible in our schools, libraries and the wealth of periodicals in this country.

Her physical youthfulness Mrs. Crawford attributes to a full life of activity, plenty of outdoor exercise and obedience to the fundamental laws of hygiene. In Greensboro she lives with her daughter, whose two little girls, seven and eight, are "keeping up with grandmother" by good records in school.

CAN THE JAPANESE SHOOT?

Visiting General From Nippon Answers Question With Ten Bullseyes in a Row.

Peekskill, N. Y.—An American army officer on the National Guard rifle range asked Maj. Gen. H. Haraguchi of the Japanese army if the commissioned personnel of the Nipponese forces was well trained "from the ground up."

The major general, in his finest uniform, resplendent in its decorations of golden lace, its medals for bravery and distinguished service, its stripes and its leather fittings, was accompanying Adj't Gen. J. Leslie Kinkaid, New York National Guard, down a rain-drenched line of Seventh regiment men at practice on the 500-yard range.

"May I take that soldier's rifle?" he asked the adjutant general. General Kinkaid nodded.

The private handed over his rifle and into the muddy hole slid General Haraguchi. He fired ten shots.

From the pit under the target a soldier telephoned:

"Ten straight bullseyes. Some shooting, Biddle."

Haraguchi, covered with mud, arose, smiled, and said:

"From the ground up—yes."

"Canned" Voices of All Races in Berlin Museum

Berlin.—A museum of living voices—more than 2,000 phonograph plates of prominent personages, of wild tribes and all races—has been collected by Prof. Wilhelm Doegen of the Berlin public library.

The professor believes that from this extraordinary museum he could start a movement which would solidify peace in the world, and he is now trying to arrange for contact with Americans and other scientists.

"Furthering the mutual understanding of the peoples as well as of scientific progress," he said, has always been the aim of our work. For instance, the general idea about the Gurkhas is that they are a savage tribe glorifying in bloodshed. Now take this record."

The sounds of a beautiful and melancholy tune ceased.

"Can anyone imagine a tribe having such songs and being a mere set of cut-throats?" he continued.

TO CHART DEPTHS OF OCEAN

United States Will Send Two Former North Sea Mine Sweepers on the Work.

Washington.—Two former mine sweepers, turning from the pursuits of war to those of peace and science, are being remodeled in Delaware river shipyards and are nearly ready to weigh anchor to start on an indefinitely long cruise in the Pacific ocean for the United States coast and geographic survey.

They are steamers Pioneer and Discoverer, formerly the Auk and the Osprey, which saw service in the North sea. Now they are to be equipped with the finest scientific instruments for sounding and surveying.

Some time during the summer they are to pass through the Panama canal and proceed up the Pacific coast to Alaska to sound and survey uncharted territory.

Contary to general belief, it was said, there still remains much uncharted territory in that region, and many places show channels incorrectly marked and sounded. Also some places, once correctly surveyed and sounded, have been altered by the constant action of the waves.

Eleven officers and 53 men have been enlisted to man each vessel, and with the exception of the two commanding officers the crews have been selected.

The coast and geological survey has taken over also a third mine sweeper, the Flamingo, from the Navy department, now lying at Portsmouth, N. H., enlisting a crew. Following alterations she probably will join her sister ships in Alaskan waters.

TO HAVE GYPSY HONEYMOON

New Jersey Couple to Travel 10,000 Miles in a Small American Camionette.

BOY CATCHES WHITE CROW

Abandons Round-up of Cows in Canadian Northwest to Capture "Funny" Bird.

Constantinople.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Curt of Caldwell, N. J., who were married here last month, have left on a gypsy honeymoon trip of 10,000 miles around Europe. They will travel all the way in a small American camionette, with a chauffeur-cook, and a small tent of oiled silk. When the weather is too inclement for the tent they will sleep in the motorcar. Their honeymoon will take in Greece, Bulgaria, Rumania, Jugoslavia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Holland and France, averaging about 100 miles a day. They expect to complete their caravan journey in time to reach New York on Thanksgiving day.

The result of Doctor Curt's observations will be embodied in a series of economic studies for the American State department.

Dr. Waddell's Pile Remedy

Abandons Round-up of Cows in Canadian Northwest to Capture "Funny" Bird.

Stettler, Alta., Canada.—Mrs. Katie Rottenfusser's eight-year-old son was sent out to bring in the cows for milking recently, and a short time later the mother saw the boy coming into the barnyard without the cows, but with something in his arms.

It was a pure white crow, white head, white feet, even white toenails. There is not a black spot on its whole body, and it seems as healthy as any crow that caws.

"I just caught it in the old cornfield," was all the boy would say about the capture of the rare bird. Mrs. Rottenfusser has offered to sell the crow to a circus menagerie.

LIVE WIRE CHARGES WATER

Woman and Two Men Are Electrocuted in Odd Accident in Maine.

North Anson, Maine.—A woman and two men were electrocuted here as the result of a horse coming in contact with a charged wire in a pool of rainwater. A guy wire was crossed by a high tension wire and the horse, driven by Ora Pullen, struck it. Pullen was killed in going to the aid of the animal, and Mrs. Thomas Moran and Warren Nutting met death when they stepped into the water to assist Pullen.

Architect of His Own Fortune.

The proverb, "Every man is the architect of his own fortune," is found in most modern languages. According to Sallust, Roman historian, the phrase originated with Appius Claudius Caecus, who held the office of censor in 312 B. C. A century later Plautus, a Roman dramatist, asserted that "the wise man is the maker of his own fortune, and, unless he is a bungling workman, little can befall him which he would wish to change." Another form is, "His own character is the arbiter of everyone's fortune."

Freak Phrase.

At the club the other evening the conversation turned to palindromes, words and phrases which spell the same whether you start at the beginning or at the end. One member remarked that the best palindrome he had ever seen—the best because it was a perfectly natural sequence of words in an advertisement—was a sign which appeared in a drug-store window many years ago. It was at a time when Red Root was popular as a curative agent and the palindromic sign ran: "Red Root Put Up to Order."—Boston Transcript.

MOTORLESS PLANES

The success of the German aeronaut, Henzen, in his motorless flights near Bersfeld, were even more spectacular and astonishing than his early preliminary experiments indicated. He has succeeded in remaining in the air continuously for more than three hours, taking off from the level ground, and hovering motionless in the air or describing great circles soaring or descending at will, and finally, long after darkness had fallen, gliding silently down into the valley of the Fuida River without the slightest mishap.

Glenn H. Curtiss, stimulated by the German experimenters, is about to try out a glider of his own for the purpose of testing the possibilities of lighter construction for airplanes, and to study air currents. He declares that the machine he is to use can be operated successfully as an aeroplane by installing a six-horse power motor.

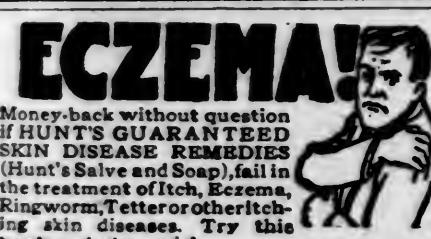

The glider, as such, will, of course, have but little value except as a means of mastering the secrets of the air currents, but its development will doubtless lead to the construction of very small and light machines which can be operated with comparatively little mechanical energy, and which can be maneuvered easily even with the power shut off.

The sky may some day be as thick with these light planes as the streets are to-day with motor cars. Where, then, shall we go for safety except to a lodge in some vast wilderness?

Kentucky Sends Two Missionaries
To Serve In China and Palestine

Miss Sarah Frances Gayle (1), Falmouth, Ky., who sailed September 2 from Seattle on the Admiral Liner President Jackson (3) for North China, where she will be engaged in evangelistic work under the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. Rev. F. B. Pearson (2) of Winchester, Ky., who was married Sept. 5 to Miss Ruth Casey, of Birmingham, Ala., will sail soon for Jerusalem to do missionary work in Palestine. A. J. Logan, of Louisville, and Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Moye, of Corydon, Ky., are also under appointment of the Board for foreign service, but have deferred their sailing in order to take further special training in this country.

WITH the sending out this season of fifty new missionaries by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, 250 new workers have been sent to foreign fields during the 75 Million Campaign, or one-half the goal that was set in the number of workers to be provided during that movement. It is anticipated the remaining 250 will go out during the remainder of the Campaign period that will expire in December, 1924. The workers going out this season will enter the fields of China, Japan, Africa, Palestine, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Chile and Mexico.

Inasmuch as the largest missionary effort of the denomination is centered in the Orient, the larger portion of the workers sailed from Seattle Saturday, September 2, on the Admiral Liner President Jackson for stations in China and Japan. The missionaries for fields on other continents sail from New York on various lines and some of them will not depart until September 30.

Varied Types Workers Sent

Included in the list of missionaries are preachers and evangelists, teachers, doctors, nurses, one architect, one expert in domestic science, and special workers among women and children. William Earle Hines of Spartanburg, S. C., who goes to Shanghai to supervise the construction of all missionary buildings in China, enjoys the distinction of being the first architect ever sent out by the Foreign Mission Board, and his appointment indicates the vast extent of the Southern Baptist work in that country. More than half of the total number of missionaries in the employ of this board are located in China, where the results of their labors are very gratifying to the officers of the Board.

Large interest centers, also, in the launching of an intensive missionary work in Palestine, to which country there go Rev. and Mrs. Fred Bunyan Pearson of Moulton, Ala., and Rev. and Mrs. J. Walsh Watts, of Laurens, S. C. Some native missionaries are already at work in Palestine, and the outlook there is considered very encouraging, despite the present complicated political and racial controversies.

Campaign Brings Enlargement

In addition to the sending out of 250 new workers to foreign fields the 75 Million Campaign has made it possible to increase the number of native workers from 771 to 1172, to practically double the missionary equipment in the older fields of China, Japan, Africa, Italy, Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Uruguay and Mexico, and to enter the new fields of Spain, Jugoslavia, Hungary, Roumania, Southern Russia, Palestine and Siberia. Southern Baptists now have a practically unbroken string of mission fields encircling the globe, and a possible mission audience of 900,000,000 people, or one-half the total population of the globe.

And the results on the field have kept pace with the larger investment in the work and number of workers. Since the outset of the Campaign the Foreign Mission Board reports the organization of 117 new churches, 21,723 baptisms, 211 new Sunday schools with a gain of 17,576 pupils, native contributions to Baptist work of $1,003,390.68, and 529,642 treatments administered by missionary physicians. Churches on the foreign fields, exclusive of the new territory in Europe and the Near East, now number 622 with 64,251 members. There are also 971 Sunday schools with 53,691 pupils, and 694 mission schools of all grades with 26,507 students.

Expense Rate Is Low

More than $6,250,000 net has gone from the Campaign into foreign mission work, and so economically have these funds been handled, the Board reports, that 96.24 cents out of every dollar has actually reached the foreign fields, only 3.74 cents out of each dollar being required to care for the total cost of administration. But with these larger receipts and economical administration the Board is unable to meet the demands upon it, and at its last annual meeting it was compelled to reduce the requests of the missionaries on the field for appropriations by more than $1,000,000.

WOMEN WORK ON BALLOONS

So delicate is the work on the silken fabric which is in use for navy balloons that women are employed at the naval aircraft factory in Philadelphia. The photograph shows one of the fair workers engaged in making the balloon envelope of the balloon which was sent to Geneva, Switzerland, as the navy entry in the international balloon race and flown by Lieut. Walter S. Reed.

THIS ENGINEER WAS GALLANT

He Stopped His Train and Landed Big Tarpon Fish for Mississippi Woman.

Biloxi, Miss.—There is no lack of gallantry on the part of this Louisville & Nashville passenger engineer—or was it his overwhelming love for angling?

The chauffeur of one of the "Ellen's" palatial trains sped on to the bridge at Ocean Springs. On the bridge Mrs. W. M. Lampton was wrestling with a fishing pole that was jerked hither and yon too wildly for feminine strength. It was a tarpon on the hook, whereas Mrs. Lampton had gone into the sport modestly hoping to catch a little mess of trout for supper.

For 45 minutes Mrs. Lampton and the tarpon fought a game battle with the score standing about even. The L. & N. engineer procured the heavy iron hook with which his fireman shrank down the grate bars and with this made the tarpon captive in a jiffy.

Were Pretty Well Advanced.

Cheating contractors and crooked officials of Sumerian civilization in Mesopotamia 5,000 years ago were tried briefly and thrown into the river, according to recent scientific discoveries. Among other things, they had an elaborate banking system, with a reserve bank comparable to our own of today, a postal system with a parcel post branch and circulating libraries, which distributed clay tablet books.

On Cold Reflection.

Sometimes this appears to be a mean old world.—Dallas (Tex.) Morning News.

"De importance of what you has to say," said Uncle Eben, "depends entirely on de attention you kin git for it. A sermon ain't actually no longer dan you kin keep de congregation awake."

He Broke Monte Carlo Bank and Died Broke

Paris.—Charles Deville Welis, the "man who broke the bank at Monte Carlo" and hero of the song heard wherever the English language was spoken in the early nineties, died in Paris recently in such abject poverty that his death passed unnoticed until more than a month afterward. He was eighty-one years old.

Welis, after a record run of luck at Monte Carlo, soon became a bankrupt. He had many other vicissitudes, including several terms in jails and penitentiaries in England and France for obtaining money under false pretenses. He used to blossom out with many get-rich-quick schemes. One of them was a system whereby he claimed any roulette wheel might be beaten by a player with a sufficient bank roll. Applicants for the system, however, generally were relieved of their bank rolls before reaching the roulette wheel.

Porridge Makes Scots Sturdy.

Has porridge made Scots sturdy? New light has been thrown upon this subject by the discovery within the last few years that porridge may have a strong effect upon the mysterious pituitary gland—which is a small organ at the base of the brain, determining our size and physical characteristics. If this little chemical factory is too active we are liable to become giants; if it does not work hard enough we may be Tom Thumbs. Some doctors now say that porridge makes the gland work in such a way as to produce the high cheek bones and splendid bodies which are the trademark of the Scot.

Sermon's Real Duration.

"De importance of what you has to say," said Uncle Eben, "depends entirely on de attention you kin git for it. A sermon ain't actually no longer dan you kin keep de congregation awake."

PRESS FAIR TO HIM

(Washington Post)

Men prominent in public life occasionally complain of the manner in which their utterances and actions are handled in the newspapers. Sometimes one of them will resort to the expedient of refusing to receive newspaper men, but such attempts are rarely of long duration, because sooner or later the official has something he wishes to convey to the public and press is the most logical and effective channel of distribution. Among those, on the other hand, who have no complaint to make regarding their treatment by writers, former Vice-President Marshall is a prominent figure.

Mr. Marshall is a student of the Paris High School, and has a wide circle of friends here and in the county, who are extending congratulations and best wishes.

LAKE—FEEBACK

Miss Jeseppine Lake and Mr. Julian Feeback, both of Millersburg, were united in marriage Monday morning at the home of the bride, the Rev. W. Morton, pastor of the Millersburg Presbyterian church, officiating. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Lake, of Colville. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Feeback. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Feeback left for a short honeymoon trip to Louisville, to attend the State Fair, and to visit relatives. On their return they will reside at the home of Mr. Feeback, in Millersburg.

Mr. Marshall then took the writers into his confidence by admitting that he sometimes thought he had made a mistake by not taking up newspaper work as a profession. "I can't think of anything that would be more pleasant than to be able to write about any subject in which I was interested and to have thousands of readers of my views," he declared.

EMBARRASSING

A third time she pressed the button, loud and hard. Nobody came to the door and she pressed her nose against the window pane and in a shrill voice which caught the ears of every neighbor called:

"It's all right, mamma, I'm not the installment man."

CROUCH—GALBRAITH

An announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Lucille Crouch, of Little Rock, and Mr. William W. Galbraith, of Carlisle, which took place on April 12. The bride is a native of Little Rock. two, both of Shelbyville, motored to Paris, Tuesday afternoon, and were married at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. E. Ellis, of Shelbyville, and is a beautiful and very accomplished young woman.

DELANEY—KARNAP

A message to Mrs. Cora Delaney of Paris, from her son, Virgil Delaney, told of his marriage at Ashland, to Miss Mildred Karnap, of that city. The ceremony was performed at Ashland by local minister two months ago, but had been kept a secret until the announcement was made through the message to Mrs. Delaney.

While a resident of Paris, Mr. Delaney was employed at the undertaking establishment of George R. Davis. For the past year he has been connected with the firm of J. W. Mock & Co., funeral directors, in Ashland.
